Social Studies

All social studies classes will begin their unit on the governments of Latin America. They will study a wide variety of governments, such as communist Cuba and democratic Mexico, that allow them to use the knowledge they have built throughout this school year. Students should continue to study their map of Latin America because they will be assessed on it during their final exam in March.

Science

We will continue our Climate & Weather studies after our break. Our content will include terms we hear the weatherman use on a daily basis: humidity, fronts, clouds, and precipitation. Our next vocabulary quiz is scheduled for Thursday, March 9 (note the date carefully). There will be 20 terms in the list. Please check our Weebly pages regularly for additional resources.
